12. Read about Lewis Jones. Put the verbs in brackets in the correct form.

The Life of a Shepherd

Standing on a busy train on a rainy Monday morning, many city workers 1. dream (dream) of a life away from the crowds. Looking after sheep miles away from any other human being may sound like the perfect escape. However, the life of a shepherd isn't just about watching the sunset and walking in pretty countryside. It's often a lonely and difficult job.

Lewis Jones is a Welsh shepherd. He 2. _____ (spend) 12 hours a day, seven days a week, with his sheep in Snowdonia National Park. Apart from his sheep, he only has two dogs for company, Rex and Bex. 'On the good days I'm very happy man,' says Lewis. 'When I 3. _____ (walk) with my dogs on a soft summer's evening, with the beauty of the mountains around me, life is perfect. But, I sometimes 4. _____ (not see) another human being for a whole week. My sheep and my dogs are my only friends.'

Lewis 5. _____ (own) over 2,000 sheep and 6. _____ (walk) hundreds of miles. It's hard work, and so now he 7. _____ (look) for someone to help him. He 8. _____ (offer) to pay $21 an hour and he 9. _____ (provide) accommodation – a small cabin set in the foothills of Mount Snowdon.

'In the winter I 10. _____ (work) for months on end in the rain and snow,' says Lewis. 'It's freezing and very lonely. Also, the newborn lambs sometimes 11. _____ (die) of the cold – it breaks my heart, and that's when I 12. _____ (not like) this job.'

Many of us 13. _____ (want) to work for ourselves when we 14. _____ (have) problems with our bosses. But as Lewis explains, a shepherd's boss is the weather, and it's not always a kind one. When you're on a mountain and the snow 15. _____ (fall) heavily, and you can't find your sheep, there's no one to complain to.

You're on your own!

So, do you still want to escape the city and work outdoors in the countryside? Perhaps the grass isn't always greener there...
